Western Undergraduate Exchange Enrollment Report Fall 2012

WICHE's Regional Student Exchange Programs

In 2013, the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education (WICHE) celebrates 60 years of operations. Western states formed the Western Regional Education Compact in the early 1950s to share higher education resources. WICHE's Student Exchange Program (www.wiche.edu/sep) was created to allow institutions to maximize their resources by filling available capacity and reduce unnecessary duplication of programs. As a result, critical and highly specialized programs remain robust, and all participating programs can attract the best and brightest students in the region and bring diverse perspectives into the classroom. Our regional partnerships also help facilitate the creation of programs in new fields, such as biotechnology and nanotechnology, alternative energy technology, and emerging media.

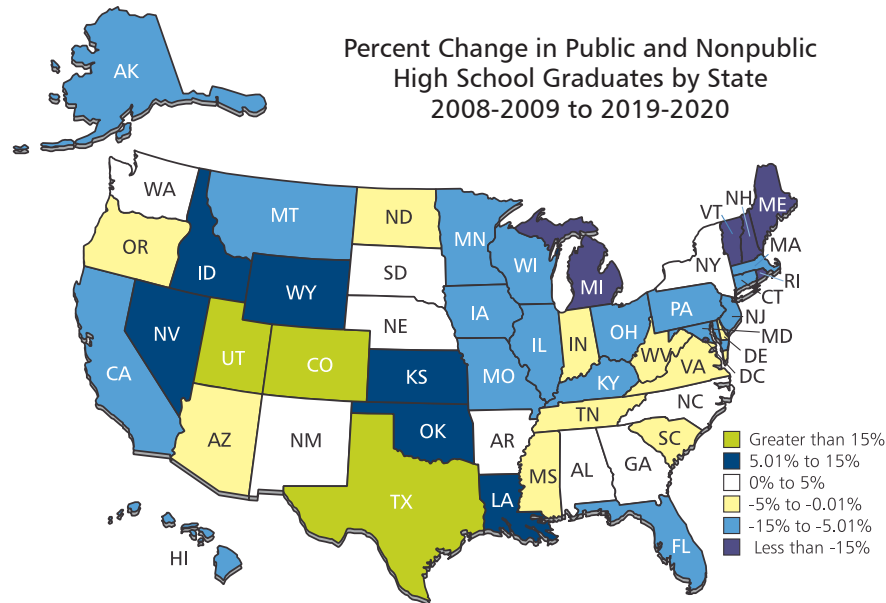

Interest in regional cooperation continues to be strong, especially since the economic turmoil that began in late 2007. Many of our WICHE states are still dealing with fiscal problems caused by the rising costs of healthcare, corrections, and K-12 education, combined with the loss of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act funds which were used in recent years to offset declining revenues. State and local appropriations per FTE in higher education have declined, and tuition and fees at our public institutions have risen sharply. Fortunately, policymakers had the foresight to endorse regional higher education access programs years ago. These programs continue to provide students and their families with significant savings: in the 15 WICHE states, tuition savings amount to hundreds of millions of dollars each year. Students and administrators attest to the value of WICHE's programs – as you'll read in this report.

◀ The map illustrates how regional education exchanges such as WICHE's remain a critical tool in growing an educated workforce, particularly in the West, where some states are growing quickly while others have shrinking populations. Helping students migrate between states that face differing enrollment challenges provides a flexible, state-responsive solution.

Through WICHE's Student Exchange Program – which includes the Western Undergraduate Exchange (WUE), the Western Regional Graduate Program (WRGP), and the Professional Student Exchange Program (PSEP) – some 32,700 residents of 15 Western states¹ are currently enrolled at reduced levels of tuition in a variety of undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs. This academic year WUE helped 31,058 students and their families save an estimated $235.8 million by paying 150 percent of resident tuition, instead of the full nonresident rate at 146 participating WUE institutions. More than 1,000 master's, doctorate, and graduate certificate students enrolled in programs of study through WRGP have saved an estimated $15.2 million; they pay resident tuition, instead of nonresident, and can choose from 276 participating programs at 52 institutions. Finally, some 680 students paid significantly reduced tuition while preparing for their professional degree in 10 healthcare professions while enrolled through WICHE's PSEP.

¹ The Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands (CNMI) recently joined WICHE as its newest member. Its residents will be eligible to be considered for the discounted WUE and WRGP rates effective April 1, 2013.

The Western Undergraduate Exchange (WUE)

In 2013, the Western Undergraduate Exchange (www.wiche.edu/wue) celebrates 25 years of exchanges. Based on a regional tuition-reciprocity agreement forged in 1987, WUE enables students from WICHE states to enroll in participating two- and four-year public institutions at 150 percent of the enrolling institutions' resident tuition. WUE is the largest program of its kind in the nation. Since the first exchanges began in 1988, WUE has provided WICHE students and their parents with discounts on some 360,000 annual tuition bills – saving them, overall, almost $2 billion.

The program continues to grow. In 2012-13, 31,058 WUE students saved $235.8 million: an average of $7,600 each. Students can choose from 146 participating WUE institutions. Northland Pioneer College (AZ), the University of Hawai'i Maui College, and Great Falls College (MT) are WUE's newest members. The chart below shows the continued growth of the program over the past five years. Table 3 shows the number of WUE students received and sent from each state over the last five years.

To learn more about the wide array of programs available at WUE institutions, consult our searchable database, located at www.wiche.edu/wue. For additional details, follow the links to receiving institutions' WUE profiles and websites.

Why Western Institutions Participate in WUE

WICHE encourages nonparticipating institutions to consider joining the WUE network as a tool to meet their recruitment and enrollment goals. Institutions, with the guidance of their state governing agencies, have significant latitude in the way they can use WUE. Our WUE partner institutions formulate admissions policies that work best for them and their state workforce, but also benefit enrolled students and their families from elsewhere in the West.

In spring 2012 WICHE staff surveyed participating WUE institutions to learn more about how they are using the program to achieve their enrollment goals while providing students from across the West affordable access to their campuses. Approximately 80 percent of WUE institutions responded to the survey.

Each state or institution controls its level of participation in WUE. Some states set limits on the total number of students admitted. The majority of institutions (72 percent) planned to maintain approximately the same number of WUE seats in fall 2012. Twenty-seven institutions planned to increase their participation, and only three planned to decrease it. California, Colorado, Oregon, and Washington are the most popular states for WUE recruitment. Twenty-one percent of institutions use WUE as a merit scholarship and 56 percent automatically award the discounted rate to applicants from a WICHE state. Most WUE institutions (89 percent) offer the WUE rate to transfer students.

"WUE has allowed our coaches to broaden their recruiting scope while maximizing their scholarship budgets. We have a significant number of student athletes who receive partial or no athletic aid and WUE allows them to attend Metro State at an affordable rate, participate on a highly competitive Division II team, and pursue the major of their choice. Student athletes account for about 15 to 20 percent of our WUE enrollment. WUE has allowed us to remain competitive in the recruiting process and attract talented and diverse students from the West at an affordable tuition rate."

– Ellen Boswell, Director of Institutional Research,
Metropolitan State University of Denver

“WUE has helped me achieve my academic goals by making it easier to attend Idaho State University. I am from Montana and none of the colleges had the program I was looking for. Idaho State University did, but without WUE, the financial burden would have been heavy and that alone would have made it difficult for me to complete my education. WUE has helped me get one step closer to my professional goal of becoming a speech pathologist.”

– Paige, Montana resident, Class of 2016,
Idaho State University, Speech Pathology

“I am originally from South Dakota. The WUE program gave me the opportunity to experience life outside the Midwest, while making it affordable to do so. It also allowed me to expand my horizons and get comfortable with my surroundings in all places or situations. The WUE program gave me the confidence to later pursue an MBA in New York City, which I completed last May.

Thank you for the opportunity and I hope many others will continue to benefit from this program, just as I have.”

– Ross, South Dakota resident, Class of 2010,
Northern Arizona University, Finance

Each state and institution chooses which programs they wish to make available to WUE students and under what conditions. The majority of institutions, 72 percent, make all their majors available at the WUE rate, and 24 percent make most of their majors available. Two of the most commonly excluded programs are nursing and dental hygiene, due to high demand by in-state residents.

Institutions like WUE because they can attract high-caliber students, maximize their student housing capacity, increase student diversity, and give students an affordable education in their major (which, for students, is especially important if the program is not offered in their home state).

Whether your institution is currently participating in WUE or just considering it, we encourage you to read the WUE FAQ for institutions (www.wiche.edu/info/publications/wueFAQ.pdf), as well as “Student Migration: Relief Valve for State Enrollment and Demographic Pressures” (www.wiche.edu/info/publications/PIStudent_Migration.pdf), which explains the policy logic behind WUE and other regional tuition reciprocity programs.

For additional information about joining WUE, contact WICHE’s director of student exchange at 303.541.0214 or info-sep@wiche.edu.

What WUE Students Are Studying

The Fall 2012 WUE headcount shows enrollment trends similar to prior years. WUE students’ “top 10” majors continue to align well with some of the West’s most crucial workforce needs that include healthcare, the biological and biomedical sciences, engineering, and business. WUE student enrollments are strongest in the areas noted below.

- Healthcare majors that WUE students are studying include: nursing, the allied health professions (such as physical therapy, occupational therapy, radiology, respiratory therapy, nuclear medical technology, audiology, and clinical laboratory science), dental hygiene, healthcare administration, and healthcare information technology. Students are also using WUE to complete their undergraduate degrees to advance to the professional level; many are majoring in premed, predentistry, prepharmacy, and preveterinary studies.
- Biological and biomedical science majors targeted by WUE students include biochemistry, biotechnology, genetics, microbiology, botany, zoology, and marine biology.
- Engineering majors of interest to WUE students includes specialties in biomedical, chemical, civil, computer, electrical, mechanical, mining and mineral, nuclear, petroleum, industrial, geological and geophysical, and electrical engineering.
- Business majors that are drawing WUE students include: accounting, business administration and management, finance, hospitality and hotel administration, human resource management, construction management, and international business.

“I graduated from a California high school and wanted to go to university there, but tuition costs have been sky rocketing and I couldn’t afford it. Fortunately, I enrolled at Northern Arizona University and was awarded WUE. WUE has allowed me to stay in school. I’m putting the tuition savings towards other school-related necessities like books and rent. It’s helped me reduce the amount of student loans and reduce financial pressures. WUE has brought me one step closer to my career goals and I am greatly appreciative.

– Khaxil, California resident, Class of 2013,
Northern Arizona University, Psychology and Sociology

Other majors at the top of WUE students' lists are in the areas of: education; the social sciences; visual and performing arts; psychology; parks, recreation, leisure, and fitness studies; and communication and journalism.

Detailed WUE enrollment reports are available on WICHE's website. State higher education offices may also request custom CIP-code-based reports to find out which out-of-state programs their residents are seeking through WUE, as well as which of their state's programs attract the most WUE students. To request these custom reports, contact our office at 303.541.0214 or infosep@wiche.edu.

"I have been a professional boat captain for seven years. I am paying for school myself, without help or assistance from outside sources. I never imagined being able to afford to go back to school until I heard of the WUE program. I wanted to attend California Maritime Academy for several years and thanks to WUE, it became reality. With the degree and license I will receive, I'll be able to secure the job of my dreams. I never could have done it without the immense help and support of WICHE. Thank you so much."

— Brian, Hawai'i resident, Class of 2016,
California Maritime Academy, Marine Transportation

"Without WUE, I would not have been able to attend the college that was the best fit for me. Attending Colorado State University forced me out of my comfort zone and helped me grow as a person, as well as allowing me to learn about the many professional options I could choose from. Now I am on my way to becoming a physician's assistant. Because of the experiences I have had here in Colorado, I am confident that this is the perfect profession for me. I am so thankful for the opportunity the WICHE has given me; without it I would not be where I am today."

— Megan, Arizona resident, Class of 2011,
Colorado State University, Health and Exercise Science
(Sports Medicine)

"WUE makes dreams possible. Without it, I wouldn't have been able to pursue my college aspirations in the manner I had hoped and planned ever since I was in 5th grade. One of my top priorities was to experience a new living environment, meet a more diverse group of people and gain exposure to a variety of educational opportunities not available in my home state. With college costs almost doubling in the past few years, I faced financial constraints which limited my choices. WUE made it possible for me to follow my dreams within my budget. I wake up every day excited – and grateful – to be working towards my scholastic goals. It is a competitive program, but worth every effort. I am proud to be a participant and I will always value the opportunity WUE provided me."

— Alex, Idaho resident, Class of 2016,
Western Washington University, Biology and Anthropology

"I grew up in a rural community and wanted to go out of state for college once I graduated. I knew that without a good scholarship or some sort of luck it would not become a reality. I did some research about the programs offered through MSU Denver and stumbled upon WUE. It was a very easy to apply, and my application was approved! Without WUE, I wouldn't be able to live in the beautiful State of Colorado nor experience the awesome learning environment that the Auraria campus provides."

— Lora, New Mexico resident, Class of 2013,

"I'm interested in computer security and information assurance, a field vital to our continued national security. WUE allowed me to attend one of the leading universities in the field of information assurance in New Mexico. Not only am I able to attend one of few universities certified by the National Security Administration as a Center for Academic Excellence in both information security education and research, but I'm living in a vastly different part of the U.S. than where I grew up in Oregon."

“The WUE program has provided an affordable option for my college studies. My options for majors were limited since my home state has only one university, so studying out-of-state was the best solution for me. WUE has allowed me to attend an excellent school and pursue a field of study that interests me, and graduate with less debt.”

– Ashley, Wyoming resident, Class of 2013,
Montana Tech of the University of Montana, Metallurgical Engineering

“WUE changed my life. I got accepted into an accelerated honors program called ITEC at CSU, Chico. It’s for liberal study majors who aspire to be elementary school teachers. Being from Washington, the price of out-of-state tuition would have been too high for my family and me to afford. However thanks to WUE, I am now at Chico State pursuing my dream to change children’s lives. My gratitude is endless, and words cannot express how blessed I am to be a part of the WUE program.”

Note: University of Wyoming's WUE enrollment numbers are based on end of Fall data from the previous year.

“Thanks to the reduced tuition provided by WUE, I was able to attend Colorado State University in Fort Collins. I am very interested in the impact that humans have on our environment and in improving ways of quantifying this impact. By attending CSU, I was able to meet many high-profile researchers and scientists working in this field. I worked in a research lab for four years and then was given an opportunity to work on remote-sensing technologies being developed for the next generation of NASA satellites while being paid to obtain my master’s degree. This technology is exactly what I wanted to work on, as it provides a means of accurately measuring the levels of the ocean and large inland bodies of water globally.”
